About – Confederacy of Treaty Six First Nations

The office of the Confederacy of Treaty Six First Nations was created in the spring of 1993. Its purpose: to serve as the united political voice for those First Nations of Treaty Six who were involved, because they believe that there is a need for fundamental treaty and human rights of First Nations people to be protected.

The Confederacy of Treaty Six First Nations is dedicated to ensuring that the terms, spirit, and intent of Treaty Six are honoured and respected. The right of First Nations to self-determination must be honoured and respected - this includes the right to choose their own government and political structures, and to determine and direct the social, cultural, spiritual, and economic advancement of their people.

About – Confederacy Investors Group

Established in December 2022, the Confederacy Investors Group (“CIG”) was created with the primary purpose of generating wealth for Confederacy of Treaty Six First Nations in a sustainable and responsible manner.

The group was formed with the intent of investing in large-scale, long-term investment projects and opportunities which may otherwise not be attainable by individual Nations.

The CIG is primarily searching for opportunities over $250 million with a potentially unlimited ceiling; however, remaining open to smaller opportunities should they make sense.

Investments will not be limited to any specific sector or geographical area.

Governance

The Board of Directors is responsible for the independent and objective stewardship and oversight of the management of the Confederacy Investors Group (“CIG”). The Board is responsible for overseeing the establishment and maintenance of processes that ensure organizational compliance with the applicable laws and regulations as well as its own policies and relevant internal controls.

The Board meetings are held four (4) times a year for a day in person and may be held remotely or any place within Alberta.

Board Director Profile

Working with the inaugural Board of Directors, comprised of five Board Members and the Chief of the Confederacy operating in an ex officio position, who will have past experience in business, entrepreneurship, executive leadership, investment management, or senior-level consulting and will be known for their integrity, sound and independent judgment, insight, business acumen, and collaboration. The ideal individual(s) will also bring the following experience and competencies to the Board at CIG:

- A national perspective and knowledge of the dynamics of Indigenous communities and leaders, combined with an understanding of the diverse traditions and protocols within First Nations communities
- Ability to read and evaluate financial statements and business plans
- Demonstrate previous board or committee experience combined with strong knowledge and understanding of best practices in governance
- Ability to commit to a two-to-three-year term with the possibility of renewal
- Attend all meetings and the necessary time commitment and travel
